MEASURE

To accurately measure your space, follow these tips to draw your kitchen to scale.

1. Measure from the corner to the outside of the trim or treatment of the nearest door or window. Mark this measurement.
2. Next, measure the door or window from trim to trim (or the edges of the window treatment), making sure to use the outsides of the trim.
3. Measure from the outside of the trim or treatment to the next window or door and repeat step 2. If there is not another window or door on this wall, measure from the outside of the trim to the next corner.
4. Repeat this process, working clockwise around the room. This helps ensure you don't miss anything.

As you make your measurements, be sure to mark any lights, switches, electrical outlets and plumbing on the design grid, noting how far everything is from the floor, as well. It is also a good idea to mark which walls are interior and which are exterior. We've provided graph paper on page 11 to get started.

FINISHES. PAINTS.

CHOOSE YOUR PAINT.

PAINTS WITH SUEDE TOPCOAT

A Suede topcoat softens the tone of the paint with a matte finish. Like our standard topcoat, a Suede topcoat provides durability and resistance to scuffs, stains, UV fade and cleaning chemicals.

VINTAGE PAINT

A finish that gives a painted door a sense of history and the feeling of being well-loved. The door's distressed and sanded corners allow a little of the original wood to show through.

PAINTS WITH HIGHLIGHTS

The highlight technique adds visual depth and interest in the corners, crevices and ridges of the cabinetry, bringing out unique qualities of each design. Since it's applied by hand, no two doors are exactly the same.

FINISHES. STAINS.

CHOOSE YOUR STAIN.

STAINS WITH SUEDE TOPCOAT

A Suede topcoat softens the overall color tone of a stain with a matte finish.

Like our standard topcoat, a Suede topcoat provides durability and resistance to scuffs, stains, UV fade and cleaning chemicals.

STAINS WITH GLAZE

Glazing adds depth and dimension to a door. It's done by hand-spraying a flood coat of glaze over the entire base stain, then hand-wiping and detailing the door so the glaze stays in the cracks, crevices and grain-lines.

DISTRESSED STAIN

Distressing mimics the imperfections of reclaimed wood by adding wormholes, softened corners, rasped edges and other deliberate methods of loosening the sense of uniformity, all done by hand. A Suede topcoat is standard.

TERMS YOU'LL HEAR.

SLAB

Slab-style doors have the look of a solid center panel with no ornamentation.

RECESSED

A recessed panel door has a flat center panel set back inside the frame of a door.

RAISED

A raised panel has an elevated center panel and is somewhat decorative.

FULL-OVERLAY

A full-overlay door has very little frame showing around each door and drawer front for a seamless look.

HALF-OVERLAY

This style shows some cabinet frame around each door front.

PANEL STYLE

As you begin making decisions, you'll hear some common terms referring to the basic types of doors. Our door designs come in three panel styles that have an impact on the overall feel of your space.

OVERLAY

Overlay refers to how much of the door and drawer fronts cover the cabinetry frame. Hardly any of the frame will be visible behind a full-overlay door, while half-overlay doors leave more room around the frame.

WOOD TYPES.

RUSTIC ALDER (RA)

Commonly used for a rugged look, with knotholes, burls and mineral streaks. Can create a modern industrial look with a darker finish.

MAPLE (M)

A go-to wood species—very uniform and predictable. Therefore takes lighter stain and paint colors well.

CHERRY (C)

Brings a rich, elegant feel. Common in fine furniture. Darkens or “mellows” with age. May contain small knots for added character.

OAK (O)

Another popular, versatile wood with rich textures and grain patterns that lends itself to practically any application.

HICKORY (H)

The hardest wood with the widest color variation. Random burls, knots and mineral streaks give each hickory kitchen a unique sensibility.

QUARTERSAWN OAK (QO)

This technique of cutting a tree at a nearly 90° angle creates a parallel and orderly feel to the grain — as opposed to the natural variances in the grain you’ll find with traditional woods.

RUSTIC HICKORY (RH)

Includes a combination of open knots, wormholes, dramatic color contrast and mineral streaks. These characteristics occur naturally.

The specie of wood you choose makes as much of an impact as the style of cabinetry. Each type holds finishes differently and boasts its own unique grain and characteristics.
